

SUIT ATTACKS HOOVER'S OIL POLICY

Sinclair Sentence for Jury Shadowing Affirmed by Court

HOME TOWN STUFF

No doubt everybody has noticed the improvement being made in the matter of painting street names on the curbs. It is good work, but one or two, two to be exact, have been noted. Pease Street is spelled like garden peas, thus doing away with the fine sentiment contained in the correct spelling. Pease Street is named in honor of one of Texas' Governors, E. M. Pease, who served from 1854 to 1858. He was the fourth Governor after Texas had been admitted to the Union. Pease River also gets its name from this illustrious citizen. It doesn't seem right, therefore, for City Commissioner B. Daniel to change the spelling of this name. A City Commissioner has a lot of authority, but this hardly goes to the extent of changing the spelling of a historic street, like Pease.

The other error, which the watchman of this column has observed, is even more serious than the misspelling of the name of Governor Pease. The Governor is dead and cannot protest. In this other case, however, interested persons are alive and will protest. "Antelope Street" is painted on the curb at the intersection of Paradise and Wood Streets. Thus Wood Street is left out and Antelope Street is misplaced. Elder L. A. Foster lives at the corner of Paradise and Wood Streets. Elder E. L. Moore lives at the corner of Antelope and Paradise Streets. Just how these two brethren will be able to reconcile this error with the doctrine of election, would be difficult to guess. Elder Foster is a Baptist and Elder Moore is a Presbyterian, and therefore both still cling to the doctrine of election as one of the tenets of their respective faiths, although the doctrine of election is gross error, as any Methodist theologian will agree.

But this is beside the main point of this article on street signs. There are several people living on Antelope Street. Judge Stokes, for instance. You would hardly class Antelope Street as a street, just by its appearance. It resembles an alley or the Main Street in Elmore more than it does a regular street. This does not mean that Antelope Street gets its alley-like appearance from the people who live alongside. The alley appearance is obtained from the width and general appearance of the street itself. Dr. Moore and Judge Stokes would hotly resent the moving of Antelope Street, as no doubt Mr. Foster would object to being moved from Wood Street. To keep down trouble it might be a good idea to get the sign painters to correct their error. All they need to do is to paint over the Antelope sign on Wood Street and paint in the name "Wood Street." Along Paradise and Wilbarger Streets it would be a waste of good paint to recognize Antelope Street.

J. A. Baird, who with his wife and son, Hubert, and daughter Miss Louise, are traveling by automobile for Marysville, Tenn., has sent a post card from Texarkana. The picture on the reverse side of the card shows a man, on the Texas side of the state line which runs through Texarkana, while a mule which the man is leading is still on the Arkansas side of the line. It is an ingenious picture and shows that there are two sides to everything, even state lines.

STORMS CAUSE HEAVY DAMAGE IN WEST TEXAS

Property Loss to Run Into Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars in Territory in Vicinity of Abilene — Haskell County Reported Hardest Hit.

Abilene, June 3.—(P)—The Abilene Reporter today said reports indicated property damage running into hundreds of thousands of dollars had been caused Sunday from wind, hail and rain storms in scattered districts of West Texas. One death was reported.

Heaviest damage was inflicted along the southwestern and western borders of Haskell County, the newspaper said reports compiled by its staff indicated. In the Center and Plainview community houses were destroyed by a tornado which raged for fifteen minutes. A strip from Jud to Rule in Haskell County was riddled by hailstones as large as baseball, the paper said, with crops destroyed on 20,000 to 30,000 acres. Small livestock, chickens and birds were killed.

On an eight-mile belt lying between Rule and Haskell a 40-minute rain was estimated up to 15 inches causing heavy damage. Farm houses were flooded and water stood two to four feet in depth along six miles of Highway No. 120, connecting Haskell and Rule. More than 100 automobiles were marooned in that section all Sunday night. Many of the cars were abandoned by occupants.

New London, Conn., June 3.—(P)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh and his bride, who was Miss Anne Morrow, went to sea for their honeymoon. In a new 35-foot motor boat, the Mouette, they have been cruising in Long Island Sound, since their marriage at Englewood, N. J., a week ago, probably tying up at night in some quiet harbor along the Long Island shore each night.

Just at present it is believed the Mouette is off the tip of Long Island heading for Boston in a leisurely way.

On Saturday afternoon a new boat with a tall, light haired young man at the wheel, put in at Block Island for gas and oil, and Captain Louis Rounds of the Elizabeth Ann gave him a helping hand to tie up. In the pilot house there was an exchange of seafaring and other talk, and the Yachtman admitted to Captain Rounds that he was the colonel.

The Mouette was supplied with necessities, and Colonel Lindbergh took on a barrel of water as well. After a short stay he left for a cross sound trip which would have brought the craft to Montauk Point.

SCOUT PLANS DISCUSSED AT MEETING HERE TODAY

Plans for completing organization of the Boy Scouts of America in Wilbarger County rural sections and for the attendance of local scouts at the summer camps, which are to be held soon were discussed this morning at a meeting of the Scout officials of Vernon, with J. B. Parrish of Quanah, Scout executive of the Quanah Park area.

Wilbarger County and Vernon have recently withdrawn from the Wichita Falls area by Baylor County and joined the Quanah Park area. The area is now composed of these counties with, Childress, Hardeman, Cottle, Foard, Knox, and King Counties.

H. L. St. John of Vernon is the Vernon district chairman, and R. K. Tabor of Vernon is the deputy scout commissioner of the district.

It was decided at the meeting today that all local Scouts who wish to attend the Scout summer camps will be furnished with transportation and from the camps. The Quanah Park area camp will be held at Craterville, Oklahoma, from June 10 to 16.

Mr. Long came to Vernon in January, 1910 from Whitesboro to become manager of the Perkins-Watkins store, at the local business was then known. C. T. Several years later a new group was organized under the firm name of Perkins-Timberlake Company, with F. P. Timberlake as the directing head. The Vernon store was included in this group and Mr. Long continued as manager until 1924 when he was made general manager of all Perkins-Timberlake stores outside of Wichita Falls, the Wichita store being under the personal direction of Mr. Timberlake. At that time Dee Norwood, who received all his merchandising training in the Vernon store under Mr. Long, was made manager of the Vernon store.

Mr. Long said he had no definite plans to announce at this time further than that he has no intention of leaving Vernon. Mr. Norwood also stated that his plans are not matured and has nothing to announce at this time. Both Messrs. stars will battle for honors at Stag Field Friday and Saturday in the National collegiate track and field championships.

HAGEN NOT TO COMPETE IN 1930 BRITISH OPEN

London, June 3.—(P)—Walter Hagen's bid for his fifth British open golf championship will be delayed at least a year.

"Sir Walter" told a crowd of admirers at Waterloo station yesterday he would not compete in the classic next year because he is booked for a South American and world tour that will not permit him to visit Great Britain.

"But I am coming back as soon as I can and then I intend to stay a whole year in Europe, playing all the time in England and Europe," Hagen added. "I want to see many fine courses I have been told about."

MAJOR LEAGUE CARD REDUCED

ANTI-SUNDAY REGULATIONS CONFINE GAMES TO HALF REGULAR ACTIVITIES

(By The Associated Press)
What with postponements and gaps in the schedule in the non-Sunday cities of Pennsylvania, the Sabbath program in the major leagues yesterday was reduced to exactly one-half of a normal day campaign. Both the Athletics and the Cardinals, the two league leaders, helped themselves by doing nothing at all, and the cause of the Pirates certainly was not injured by inactivity.

Although George Pipgras, aided by Lou Gehrig's twelfth home run, pitched the Yankees to their second straight decision over the White Sox by 6 to 1 at the Yankee stadium, the Browns were noosed out in Washington by 2 to 1. This defeat dropped the St. Louisans four and one-half games behind the Athletics as the Yankees crept up to within seven and one-half contests of the leaders.

In defeating the White Sox, Pipgras allowed but six hits. Kerr's single and Metzler's triple in the third saved Chicago from a shutout. Gehrig's homer with one on in the first helped to tear young Ed Walsh loose from the mound, but both Hal McKain and George Connally, who followed, encountered mistreatment.

After trailing St. Louis by 1 to 0 for seven rounds, Washington tied the score against George Blaeholder in the eighth and then won out in the ninth on Joe Judge's double and two sacrifices. Irvin Hadley gave the Browns only five hits.

Red Sox bats hammered a merry tune against the barriers at Braves field yesterday at the expense of Messrs. Shaute and Ferrell, and Boston won by 12 to 8. Milton Gaston pitched for the Sox and received batting support amounting to thirteen hits.

With rain in both St. Louis and Cincinnati, the National League program was confined to Wrigley field where the Giants and the Cubs braved wintry blasts from Lake Michigan to amuse 37,000 Sabbath clients. Sheriff Fred Blake plunged into a desperate duel with Larry Benton for six innings, but blew up in the seventh under the strain of a 0 to 0 score. The Giants put six hits together for four runs and won, 4 to 1.

Athletic Council Report Reveals $1,556 Balance

The financial report of the Vernon Senior High School Athletic Council covering the period from December 27, 1928 to June 1, 1929, shows a present balance of $1,556.15, according to the report issued today by R. B. Norman, secretary of the athletic council. The report covers the baseball, track and field seasons of 1929, and tennis.

During the five months covered by the report $350.24 was received by the council and the expenditure for the same period totaled $1,779.43. The balance on hand on December 27, 1928 was $2,985.34, left over from the period covered by the preceding council report, which covered the football season.

The total credits to June 1, are $3,335.58 including the receipts since December 27, and the balance on hand at that time. Admissions during the basketball season totaled $156.42. The remainder of the receipts came in from the rebates on the district basketball tournament and from the State track and field meet, loans paid in sale of tickets to the annual gridiron banquet, refunds of traveling expenses, and sale of old equipment.

The expenditures totalling $1,779.43 covered the equipment secured this year, hospital expenses for Clyde Sharp, who died after being injured in a football game last fall, traveling expenses and awards, and other minor expenditures connected with the handling of necessary athletic expenses.

BOXING SEASON GETS STARTED

GOETHAM AND PHILADELPHIA TO STAGE PROGRAMS DURING WEEK

New York, June 3.—(P)—Open-air boxing arenas came into their own this week at New York and Philadelphia for the first time this season.

To the Queensboro stadium goes the honor of opening the big-time outdoor campaign in New York with a ten-round struggle between Tony Canzoneri, ex-featherweight titleholder, and Ignacio Fernandez of the Philippines, tomorrow night.

At the Philadelphia National's ball park tonight George Godfrey, the huge negro from Leipsville, Pa., has been matched with Jimmy Byrne of Louisville, in the main ten-round bout of the first outdoor show of the season. Godfrey, rated by some experts as the best of all the current heavyweights, will be an overwhelming favorite.

Interesting Race for Baseball Honors Promised as Sunday School Teams Enter Third Week of Play

Standing of the Teams.

TEAM	P.	W.	L.	Pct.
Baptist	2	2	0	.1000
Presbyterian	2	1	1	.5000
Christian	2	1	1	.5000
Methodist	2	0	2	.0000

Entering the third week of the first half of the Vernon Sunday School baseball schedule, the four teams included in the league promise an interesting race for championship honors. Each team has played two games under the old schedule calling for two games each week.

The Baptist Sunday School Club has offered the strongest opposition, and is leading the others teams of the circuit with a perfect standing. Holding the cellar position, but with an increasing strength, are the Methodists. They have lost both of their games.

By virtue of their narrow win over the Presbyterians nine last Friday, the Christian organization ceased to share the lower rung of the ladder with the Methodists and is now tied with the Presbyterians for second place standing. Until the latter game the Presbyterian squad was a leading contender with the Baptists, a place they gained early in the season with a win over the Methodist nine. The Baptists got off to a late start, but succeeded in putting over two victories to lead the league.

Today, under a revised schedule, the Methodists and Christians will meet in the opener for the week, to be followed Wednesday by a game between the league leaders and the Presbyterians, as the next official game.

In the meantime, the Baptists will clash with the Vernon American Legion team tomorrow. The Legion team is a new organization, and will play each team in the Sunday School league. These games will have no bearing on the league standing, but the practice gained from them will strengthen the winning teams, and will also provide a game each day in the week.

All games hereafter will start at 6:15 instead of 5:45 o'clock.

The line-up for the Christian-Methodist battle today follows:

Christian—Wilkins first, Mason

QUEEN HELEN PROVES HER RIGHT TO THRONE

Paris, June 3.—(P)—Helen Wills again has demonstrated her right to sit on the throne as queen of the world's tennis courts.

She won the women's singles championship of the French hard court tournament yesterday by defeating the No. 1 ranking player of France, Mme. Rene Mathieu, 6-3, 6-4, in the final round.

The American girl's victory not only gave her the French title for the second year in succession but showed clearly at the same time that she ranks in a class by herself among woman tennis players. Mme. Mathieu put up a plucky fight but whenever there was need to apply pressure Miss Wills clearly demonstrated her superiority.

A PIONEER PASSES

In the passing of C. F. Doan, Wilbarger County has lost one whose service transcends all modern means of evaluation. As the founder of the frontier trading post at the Red River Crossing of the Western Trail he became one of the cornerstones of development of this county and section. It is not an unfounded statement to say that the early history of this county to a great extent hinges upon the history of the Doans trading post.

Many things can be said of this pioneer, as of all pioneers. But as one views the life which spanned 80 years, more than 50 of which were spent in Wilbarger County, one is impressed most by the courage and faith that was characteristic of the man. We who today invest in a community as stable as this one have become count the chances we take carelessly, and sometimes pride ourselves upon the courage and faith displayed. By comparison with the character that led a man into a country considered worthless, and one where life was made unsafe by roving bands of Indians, the enterprise which we consider symbolical of staunch determination and confidence shrink into insignificance.

Here in retrospect we have the life of a man who staked all that goes to make up life, not only his material goods, but his own life and that of his family as well; staked against a barren country infested by Indians. Why did he make the sacrifices that life here naturally entailed? For material gain? Without a doubt most economic status in Ohio in 1875 had more to offer in the way of worldly comforts than did this country? Ohio had not then become so thickly populated as to force men of the character which Mr. Doan demonstrated in his life to move out to make way for others.

He could not have been motivated by a desire to take advantage of the rapid development of the west, which could have been foreseen, in order to pile up wealth, for he never exhibited the slightest trace of an avaricious nature when a position as a pioneer might have enabled him to acquire a tremendous portion of the land which his courage made valuable.

We of this day cannot thoroughly understand what motives actuated the pioneer who left safety and comparative comfort for a life of hardship and danger. In the absence of such understanding we can only interpret the move as typical of the restless spirit of men of Mr. Doan's character, instilled, no doubt, by the Creator to fulfill the destiny of a great State and a great Nation.

Accepting this interpretation as the true one, we who view his life from its conclusion are compelled to reverently speak the tribute, "well done." Another pioneer has gone, but he has left us a lesson of courage and faith that will never die. Such courage and faith form the foundation of civilization and progress.

A DIFFERENT AGE

Henry Ford is authority for the statement that the modern states of progress, with thousands of miles of paved highways traversed with innumerable automobiles with almost unlimited speed, the air filled with flying machines that on the instant can change into instruments of death, countless factories housing the complex mechanism that makes the industrial age possible, demands enforcement of prohibition. It is a thought worthy of consideration.

In our efforts to evaluate prohibition we too often compare the havoc wrought by liquor under prohibition with that observed in pre-prohibition days more than a decade ago, without making allowances for the unprecedented progress made in industry and machinery during that time.

Every movement that is connected with the economic structure of the Nation has been accelerated tremendously during the past decade. In comparing the two periods we should remember that on the one hand we have the year when automobiles were a luxury, and were operated as a rule over dirt roads when thirty miles an hour was considered exceptionally reckless while on the other we have a year of 70-mile-an-hour automobiles in every home, with the added factor of flying machines of all but undetermined speed.

This is an age of speed, and speed to have any vestige of safety must be supervised and directed by clear minds. An intoxicated person today can do manifold times more harm than his predecessor of a decade ago for he has at his command machinery which readily becomes powerful instruments of death and destruction. Our industrial era is not geared to the same motor which the activities of the nation evolved before the War. Work is done many times more rapidly and with less effort, and it follows that destruction can be wrought with greater suddenness and more far-reaching results.

FARM AID AND CENSUS BILL HOLD CONGRESS

Congressional Leaders Expect to Bring Plans for Summer Recess Closer to Realization this Week by Enacting Major Measures.

Washington, June 3.—(AP)—Congressional leaders expect to bring their plans for a summer recess closer to realization this week by fulfilling at least two of the administration's pre-vacation requirements.

Spurred by the crash of wheat prices below the dollar level, they expect enough export debenture advocates in the Senate to join with administration supporters in voting for eliminating that plan from the chamber's farm relief bill to permit final enactment of the legislation in time to effect this year's crops.

On the House side of the capitol, one hour was allotted today for the discussion of a special rule intended to expedite consideration of the bill to provide for the 1930 census and reapportionment of its membership. A vote on the bill is expected in time to enable a conference committee to begin—and possibly finish—negotiations for adjustment of differences which may develop between the two chambers over this legislation, including probably a rejection by the House of the Senate provision to place the 100,000 census enumerators under civil service.

That will leave the leaders with only one major problem to dispose of—the fixing of a date for Senate action on the tariff bill. Afterwards, they can move with administration approval for a short recess or a long one. That question has been put pending clarification of the legislative situation, in view of the opposition to an all-summer vacation expressed by several influential Senators.

Return of the export debenture issue to the Senate this week was regarded as certain in view of the progress of the joint conference committee working to bring the farm bills passed by the Senate and the House into conformity. It has been taken for granted since the negotiations were resumed after the deadlock over the debenture issue that the Senate group would yield on that point and recommend elimination of the proposal to their chamber, which voted into the legislation over the opposition of President Hoover by a majority of three.

LOCKNEY SURVEY REVEALS FARMERS HAVE LARGE AUXILIARY INCOME

Lockney, June 3.—(AP)—Leading business men of this section believe that the adoption of a well diversified farm program featuring the poultry and dairying industries will solve the financial problems of the South Plains farmers.

This conclusion was made, the result of a recent survey showing that produce valued at approximately $335,000 was marketed in Lockney during 1928. Of this amount, $62,500 was paid for poultry other than turkeys, $38,700 for turkeys, $45,000 for eggs and $188,800 for cream and produce dealers say that conditions were very favorable for these industries during the past year due to a continued drought and lack of green pasture during the high production seasons.

PANHANDLE WILL HAVE DAIRY PRODUCTS PLANT

Panhandle, June 3.—A modern creamery and milk products plant will be established here during the month of June, according to an announcement from F. J. Hollcroft, proprietor of the Panhandle Ice plant. The machinery will be installed in June. A standard creamery building will be finished this month. It is 30x50 feet, has concrete floors and the refrigerating rooms are properly insulated with six-inch cork brick. The creamery equipment was purchased from the Creamer Package Manufacturing Company, Chicago.

Equipment already here includes a Wizard pasteurizer, an Alaskan tubular cooler, De Laval belt-driven power separator, a patented Universal bottle filler and capper, bottle washer, yet to arrive are the boiler and engine, churn and ice cream machinery.

Wilbarger County Lady Cans Large Produce Supply

Seventy-five pounds of home grown vegetables were canned by Mrs. Dan Boone of Wilbarger County last week, Miss Emma Gunter, home demonstration agent, who aided in the canning process said today. Mrs. Boone has two acres in her garden, which is one of the best. The canning last week included three kinds of greens, spinach, mustard, and kale.

Mrs. Boone has over 300 Rhode Island Red chickens, broiler size, and 32 little poulters, and two Jersey milk cows. The Boone home is equipped with natural gas which gives fuel for cooking, lights, and heat.

Mrs. Boone plans to can a large amount of her garden produce to fill her pantry for the use of the family of five for the fall and winter.

The variety of garden produce grown in the Boone family garden includes: tomatoes, English peas, both dwarf and early; green stringless beans, green pinto beans, white wax beans, spinach, kale, mustard, cabbage, radishes, head and leaf lettuce, cantaloupes, watermelons, Spanish peanuts, and Georgia peanuts.

Other produce of the 32 varieties includes: Irish potatoes, squash, carrots, beets, black eyed peas, cream peas, cantaloupes, large blue peas, cucumbers, pole butter beans, white bunch butter beans, pepper, and red, yellow and Bermuda onions.

EGG CALENDARS ARE AVAILABLE

POULTRY CHARTS BEING DISTRIBUTED NOW BY COUNTY AGENT

County Agent, R. E. L. Pattillo of Wilbarger County has received ten special poultry calendars from extension headquarters of Texas Agriculture and Mechanical College, at College Station. This calendar provides for the keeping of complete records for poultry operations giving a standard for comparison for each month. Seven of these calendars have been distributed to poultry raisers of Wilbarger County, and reports from poultry raisers of Wilbarger County, and reports from poultry demonstrations this month reveal some good records, Mr. Pattillo said today.

Roy Lemons has 640 hens that average 22.09 eggs per month. R. L. Stallings' flock of 512 hens made an average of 19.57 eggs per hen during the past 30 days. Clint Hancock has 250 hens that averaged 21.04 eggs per hen for the month of May.

Several other reports of a similar nature are expected today from poultry raisers of the county. All the reports are published each month. The standard set for May is 19 eggs per hen. It is not recommended for individual flocks to set higher than the standard but the whole flock must be averaged.

Only ten of these calendars were available for Wilbarger County but no poultry raiser can know what he is actually doing without keeping a record on his costs and production. The record should give the number of hens in the flock, hens died or sold, eggs produced, amount of income, feed bought and other expenses, and income above expense.

It is hoped that many of the poultry raisers of the county will start keeping records of their own flocks. Mr. Pattillo said today, in order to find whether or not they are exceeding the standard set for the various months. Mr. Pattillo will help any poultry raiser start a record of this sort. The flock average for June on the standard is 16 eggs per hen.

Solution Looms for Last Issue in War Problem

Paris, June 3.—(AP)—With the important problem of German marks in Belgium shortly to reach the stage of active negotiations, the last question standing in the way of complete accord on reparations today seemed headed for solution.

The experts, while apparently marking time pending the negotiations between Germany and Belgium regarding redemption of German marks, were putting the finishing touches on their report so far as can be done before complete agreement is reached.

News from Berlin that Dr. Ritter, ministerial director, was about to start for Paris to meet the Belgian plenipotentiary, M. Gutt, brought relief to the tense situation that existed since the experts came to an agreement on other points.

There were good prospects in the opinion of well informed circles, that the Germans and Belgians would reach an agreement and make possible signing of the report before the end of the week. It was even thought that Owen D. Young, Thomas W. Lamont and Thomas N. Perkins, the American experts, might be able to catch the Aquitania on Friday. J. P. Morgan, the fourth American expert, has left Paris.

PROMINENT MEN URGE PROHIBITION OBSERVANCE

New York, June 3.—(AP)—A "message to the American people," urging that "prohibition be given an honest trial," and bearing the signatures of Henry Ford, Thomas A. Edison, Captain Robert Dollar, J. C. Penney and 20 other men prominent in business and industry, was published today.

The message quoted the plea for law observance in President Hoover's inaugural address and invited Americans, "whatever their previous opinions and social practices, and particularly those in business and professional life, to join with us in following the President. Let us unite to give the Eighteenth Amendment an honest chance for complete enforcement."

Dairy Cost Check Becomes Popular in This County

Wilbarger County farmers have become interested in the bookkeeping end of their dairying. R. E. L. Pattillo, county agent, said today. There are no dairy herd improvement associations in this county but a few farmers are weighing the milk produced by their cows and arrangements have been made to have this milk tested for butter-fat.

The idea of keeping production and cost records on the dairy herd started with one cow-test association in 1906. Doctor McDowell recalls. By the end of 1924 there were 732 dairy-herd-improvement associations, as they are now called. During the next four years the annual growth of the movement was even greater. In 1925 there was a gain of 45 associations, or 6 per cent over the previous year; in 1926 there was a gain of 60, or 8 per cent; in 1927 a gain of 110, or 13 per cent; and in 1928 a gain of 143 associations, or 15 per cent.

Thus there were 1,090 associations on January 1, 1929, in which the members were keeping books on 465,804 cows.

DOMESTIC RABBITS ARE BEING GROWN IN COUNTY

A number of Wilbarger County residents are turning their attention to growing rabbits, R. E. L. Pattillo, county agent, said today. The raising of domestic rabbits would probably prove more if the industry were studied more closely, Mr. Pattillo said.

Relatively few housewives in the eastern part of the United States are acquainted with the delicious flavor of domestic rabbit meat. Domestic hutch-raised rabbits may be eaten the year round and there are now hundreds of domestic rabbit farms throughout the country where the animals are being raised for the market. California is at present the leading rabbit raising section, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Hutch-raised rabbits are carefully bred and fed for table use. They eat rolled cereals, alfalfa hay, and leafy vegetables. The nature of their food makes the meat sweet, tender, and excellently flavored. It can be better compared with chicken than with wild rabbit. Rabbits raised in small hutches or on fur farms are cleanly in habits and can be produced under sanitary conditions.

Just as with poultry or with various cuts of meat, young, tender rabbits may be fried or roasted, while the older ones require longer, slow cooking. The Bureau of Home Economics has cooperated with the Bureau of Biological Survey in conducting experiments in the various methods of preparing domestic rabbit meat for the table.

PLAN TO TEST COWS BY MAIL

TECH ORGANIZATION TO BE FIRST OF KIND IN THIS STATE

Lubbock, June 3.—The first cow testing by mail association ever to be organized in the Southwest has just started operations at the Texas Technological College under the name of the West Texas By Mail Testing Association. K. M. Renner, head of the dairy products and manufacture department at the college, is in charge of the work.

The association is operating similar to an organization in Wisconsin. Sterling C. Evans, district agent of the Texas Extension Service, started the movement and with the county agents and home demonstration agents in his district, he is carrying out the organization of the association.

The Texas Technological College is cooperating by offering the services of Mr. Renner and others of the college to supervise the organization and to do the actual testing work and the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce has put up the finances to buy equipment for the association and to finance the beginning of the work.

This association will be of service at a very minimum charge to any farmer or dairyman in West Texas. Milk samples are merely mailed to the association here at the college, which allows any farmer, regardless of his location, to be in position to take advantage of the service. County agents will assist the farmers in keeping their feed reports. Sample cans will be mailed the farmers each month by the association and these cans are to be filled with milk to be tested and returned by mail.

All who bring their business here are assured of courteous treatment and appreciative attention, with the assurance of helpful advice and suggestions.

THE FIRST STATE BANK
Vernon, Texas

Eastland, capital of Eastland County, was the scene of a great celebration on Memorial day when the new $300,000 six-story courthouse was dedicated to the veterans of the World War. The building is declared to be one of the handsomest public edifices in Texas. In the rotunda is a huge bronze tablet bearing the names of 999 men who went from Eastland County into the great war. This building is on the site of the old courthouse which gained world-wide fame when the "Old Rip" the horned frog, emerged, presumably after a 26-year nap. The frog has been immortalized in sculpture as his chiseled likeness appears in the frieze work on the walls of the district courtrooms. The courthouse, the memorial tablet and one of the stone likenesses of Old Rip are shown in the pictures. The courthouse is illuminated by flood lights at night—one of the few buildings thus lighted along the Broadway of America.

How They Stayed Up a Week

With 172 hours, 32 minutes and one second in the air, the two Fort Worth pilots, Reginald L. Robbins and "Cowboy Jim" Kelly, have set an endurance mark for flyers to shoot at. The old record, held by the army plane, Question Mark, was 150 hours. Kelly narrowly escaped death and the plane finally was forced to descend when a buckle on Kelly's belt nicked the propeller while he was perched under the motor during a storm, greasing part of the engine. The plane, as it was being refueled, is shown above with Robbins, top, and Kelly, below.

RELIGIOUS INSURRECTORS BEATEN IN MEXICO BATTLE

It was said general Saturnino Cedillo, commanding the Federal Army, had enveloped the army of General Enrique Gorostieta at San Julian, Jalisco, killing and capturing many. Nine flying columns conducted a simultaneous attack and the insurgents were dispersed.

WOMAN UNDER SUSPICION IN SLAYING OF DIVORCEE

Chicago, June 3.—(P)—Mrs. Catherine Cassler, who spent 27 months in jail for murder, was back there today with new murder accusations flying about her graying head.

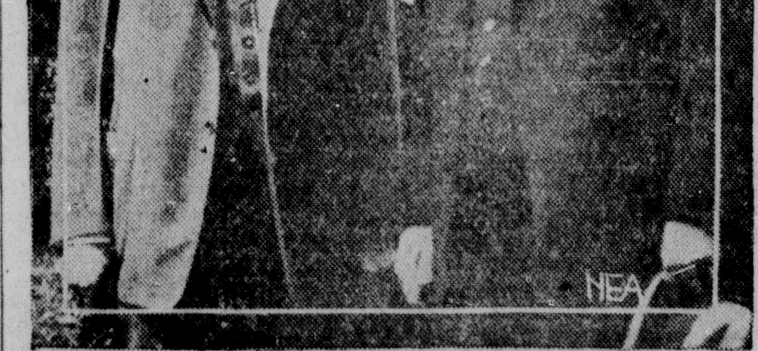

A mesh of circumstances which began forming even before her release from jail April 30 has involved her in the inquiry into the death of Camelia Soutar. The 24-year-old divorcee, whose body, a bullet through the heart, was found dead in a swamp near Hebron, Ind., last Friday.

Mrs. Cassler has denied knowledge of Miss Soutar's death.

Iowa Park Texas Farm Manager Suffered 3 Years

J. W. YARBOW SAYS "ORGATONE HAS MADE A NEW MAN OF ME"

Mr. J. W. Yarrow, a prominent and well known citizen, living at Iowa Park, route 2, and farm manager for several large farms in Iowa Park and vicinity, while in Allison's Drug Store a few days ago, made the following statement:

"For over three long years I have been in a terrible condition. I was very badly run-down, and was bothered with a severe case of indigestion. I couldn't eat anything for my appetite was entirely gone. I was nervous and restless all the time and felt as if I couldn't do anything, because I didn't have the life and energy. Gas formed on my stomach and caused a bloating sensation and my heart would palpitate faster than it was supposed to. I never got a good night's rest for after every meal I would be in perfect misery for two or three hours afterward. I was getting in such a condition that I was afraid to eat anything at all."

"Orgatone was so highly advertised by all who have taken it, and all of the local people have said so much for it, I decided to try it. I am simply getting wonderful results. I now have a good appetite and eat anything I want. Food does not sour or gas does not form on my stomach any more. I am not near as nervous as I was. Orgatone is helping me to get much better and it has certainly proven its worth to me. It has, in fact, made a new man of me and I do not hesitate to tell what it has done."

Genuine Orgatone may be obtained in Vernon at the Vernon Drug Store, Adv.

STORMS CAUSE HEAVY DAMAGE IN TWO STATES

Kansas and Missouri Raked by Torrential Rain, Hail and Wind — Loss at Wichita,
Where Airfield Was Swept,
Approaches $200,000.

Kansas City, June 3.—(P)—Torrential rains, hail and wind caused damage amounting to hundreds of thousands of dollars in Kansas and Missouri yesterday.

A severe rain and wind storm at Wichita, Kan., wrecked several buildings and a dozen airplanes at the municipal and Swallow factory airports, damage approaching the $200,000 mark. The Western Air Express trimotored plane, bound from Los Angeles to Kansas City, landed five minutes before the storm struck and was demolished. The plane, valued at $75,000, was on the second flight of the new Kansas City-Los Angeles line.

Windows in buildings in Wichita's business district were shattered and trees were uprooted in the residential section. Scores of persons were injured slightly.

Reports indicated heavy rains and hail with strong winds swept the southern half of the State. Near Hardiner, a house, was blown from

Graf Zepp to Try Again

Despite motor trouble which halted the trans-Atlantic attempt of the Graf Zeppelin the other day, the big ship is being prepared for another attempt to fly to America. The picture, the first to reach America, shows two of the engine gondolas of the Zeppelin at the French naval aviation hangar at Cuers-Jerrefeu, near Toulon, where the recent attempt ended. The motors already had been dismounted when this picture was taken.

its foundation. It was feared the wheat crop may have been damaged considerably.

Flood damage in northwest Missouri already amounting to thousands of dollars, was increased by rains of cloudburst proportion. Many bridges were washed out and railroad and bus service was paralyzed. Thousands of acres of farm land have been flooded by rains totalling 11 inches since last Friday and are believed to be unfit for cultivation.

Water was five to ten feet deep in more than 70 homes in Pattonsburg, near St. Joseph, Mo.

Boy Explorer

"Billy" Greet, above, 16-year-old Eagle Scout of Asheville, N. C., is just about the most envied Boy Scout in America. He has been chosen to accompany explorers into the wildest parts of the Great Smoky National Park area. The exploring party, consisting of two newspaper men, a mountain guide and the Boy Scout, will start in June and be in the mountains more than a month. They will explore caves, seek Indian relics and investigate primeval mountain wilderness never before visited by white men.

NEXT BALDWIN MOVE AWAITED

M'DONALD EXPECTED TO HEAD NEW LABOR GOVERNMENT

London, June 3.—(P)—Great Britain today awaited the next move of Stanley Baldwin before shaping itself for what was generally felt would be a Labor Government headed by former premier Ramsey MacDonald.

The prime minister spent the weekend at Chequers Court, official country place of British premiers, and was believed to have conferred with leaders of the Conservative party.

But what took place in these conferences could not be learned. It was not known particularly whether he would resign immediately or would choose to reorganize his government and fight it out before parliament when that body meets June 26, hoping with Liberal help to stave off a vote of no confidence.

It was no secret that those members of his cabinet who survived Thursday's cataclysm at the polls were divided as to the proper course. Sir Austin Chamberlain, foreign minister, believed his party leader should carry on as long as possible. Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer, believed the proper and more dignified thing would be to resign at once and let the Laborites have their day.

"SPITE MARRIAGE" NOW PLAYING AT PICTORIUM

Enacting scenes too realistically almost landed Buster Keaton, comedian, in trouble during the filming of "Spite Marriage," his new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer comedy vehicle which is at the Pictorium Theatre today.

Keaton had to navigate a launch made up to resemble a rum running craft in the picture. While off Catalina Island it was "spotted" by a Government cutter, which signalled it to stop, but Keaton didn't understand and kept going.

When the cutter dropped a shot across his bow, Keaton decided all was not well, and halted his boat. Explanations followed, and the revenue men decided he wasn't smuggling contraband. But if he hadn't stopped, the next shot would have wrecked his boat for him.
